Z&D Partner Timothy Hegarty to Speak at AIA Project Delivery Symposium 2019: Delivering the Future

March 11-12 at AIA National, Washington, DC

(New York – February 27, 2019) -- Timothy F. Hegarty, a partner at construction law firm Zetlin & De Chiara LLP, will speak at the AIA Project Delivery Symposium 2019: Delivering the Future in Washington, DC from March 11-12, where members of the development, design, and construction communities, will share perspectives on the latest strategies for driving project outcomes, allocating risk, and employing software to close the gap between design, fabrication and construction.

He will be a member of the panel, Project Delivery Strategies Part 2, scheduled on March 12.

Mr. Hegarty is well known for his successful litigation and transactional practice in the area of construction law with an emphasis on construction contracts, claims, arbitration, mediation, and surety law. He has drafted and negotiated complex design and construction contracts involving traditional delivery methods as well as construction management, design-build, integrated project delivery and public private partnerships.

He teaches "Legal Issues in Building Construction" in his role as an adjunct professor at Columbia University and advises on issues relating to the design and construction of major projects. Mr. Hegarty serves as General Counsel to the American Council of Engineering Companies of New Jersey and as a member of the Glen Ridge Planning Board, where he has also served as Acting Chairman of the Board.
